WHAT'S NEW?

Friends Book Sale: Feb 19 - 21

Cedarburg Friends of the Library (CFOL) is holding their 2nd annual Winter Fiction Book Sale in the Community Room at Cedarburg Public Library Feb 19 – Feb 21 during regular library hours. The sale will include adult fiction and children’s literature-hard cover, trade, and paperback. All books are $3.00 or less. If you are interested in joining the CFOL or would like more information, please contact cfolibrary@gmail.com. (Pictured above: past and current CFOL Board Members)

Preserving Family History Research

This three part presentation on Monday, Feb. 15 from 1:00 – 2:30 pm will provide attendees with the basic tools to find, organize, and digitally preserve family history records. Part one will be an overview of the Ancestry.com database, presented by CPL Reference & Instruction Librarian Emily Laws. Part two will be how to apply primary source research for family research, presented by higher education professional Kim Beloin. Part three will be how to use digital tools for the preservation of research presented by higher education professional Chris Beloin. Please register for this program using our online events calendar or call 262-375-7640, ext. 200.

Tax season is here

Whether we like it or not, tax season is upon us. CPL has some free copies of WI tax forms available in our 1st and 2nd floor Copy Rooms. We will have a few master copies of Federal forms, but you must pay to make copies of these (0.20 per side of the page). Staff at the 2nd floor Information Desk may assist with this. We will be hosting a program on Feb. 15 at 6:30 pm called “The Tax Talk,” led by local tax professionals who may answer questions-specifically about changes with taxes this year. Please register for this event using our online events calendar or by calling 262-375-7640, ext. 200. Tax assistance is also available at the Cedarburg Town Hall (sponsored by AARP). To schedule an appointment for this, call the Port Washington State Bank at 262-377-0750.
